We are extremely pleased to announce the successful completion of the largest fund-raising campaign in the 83-year history of Mount St. Mary’s College. Thanks to your generosity, we were able to end the Invest in the Mount campaign six months early and above goal.

The strong support we received from you, our donors, and from our trustees, regents, graduates, faculty, staff, and current students is cause for great pride. Throughout this campaign, we joined together to strengthen the institution we hold dear and to make a tangible difference in the lives of the many new students who come to Mount St. Mary’s College each year.

On behalf of all of us, we offer our thanks and gratitude for your participation and support of the College’s mission to provide a superior education, enable our students to build leadership skills, and foster a spirit to serve others.

In this President’s Report and Honor Roll of Donors, we mark the end of the Invest in the Mount campaign, which began in January 2005. We now embark on a new stage in the life of the College. With the momentum we have created and the investments we have made in students, programs, and facilities, the College is positioned to improve our service to students and to the larger community.

- On page 16, we acknowledge the leaders whose vision and commitment made the Invest in the Mount campaign possible.
- On page 5, you will find photos from our Finale Celebration, held earlier this fall.
- Student leaders from both our campuses share a few words on page 4 about how changes on campus—in classrooms, residence halls, and other student spaces—are already having a positive impact.
- The photos on pages 6–15 showcase the amazing transformation the College has undergone. As you will see, the College has used the funds raised to upgrade and construct multiple buildings on both campuses, infuse new monies into endowed scholarships, and give additional support to academic program development.
- Starting on page 20, we also give thanks to the thousands of donors and friends who helped make the Invest in the Mount campaign such a resounding success.

Once again, we thank you for your heartfelt generosity and dedication to Mount St. Mary’s College.

With warm regards and gratitude,

Jacqueline Powers Doud

What an exciting year it has been at Mount St. Mary’s College. As a member of the student government, I saw how much the Chalon campus was transformed by the Invest in the Mount campaign.

One of the more exciting renovations, at least for me, was the move of the Student Activities Office from the Humanities building to Leavey Commons. Right next door is the new Student Lounge, formerly the Lecture Hall, which brings commuter students and residents closer together.

I'm not a science major, but I have many friends who really appreciate the renovated labs and science classes in the St. Joseph Administration and Seaver Science Center. They thank the donors for their generous contributions!

The renovation of Little Theater, now known as the William H. Hannon Theater, was monumental. A lot of clubs on campus used this facility for events like Mount Community Night and Pangkat Pilipino Cultural Night.

I would also like to thank the many donors who gave directly to scholarships. As a scholarship recipient myself, I know firsthand what a difference scholarships make in the life of a student.

On behalf of the entire Chalon student body, I would like to extend our gratitude and appreciation for the many wonderful changes to our campus. Not only did the renovations enhance the social and academic life at Chalon, but our campus is even more beautiful than before.

Sincerely,

Taline Hanna
President
2007–2008 Associated Student Body
Chalon Campus

As the 2007–2008 associated student body president for the Doheny Campus, I want to personally thank you for all of your contributions to Mount St. Mary’s College. My fellow classmates and I are grateful for the many improvements to our beautiful campus as a result of your generosity during the Invest in the Mount campaign.

We are thankful every day for the improvements to the Ahmanson Weingart Hall classrooms. Professors say that the technology makes it easier to teach their classes and that students are more focused. The Rose Hills Auditorium has become the best place on campus to have student workshops and special ceremonies such as the Laurel Day Awards.

Everyone is looking forward to using the new Ken Skinner Parking Pavilion and enjoying the gardens and sculptures along the Adams Art Walk. And thanks to the new Hannon Hall, the residents there feel like they have a home away from home. The study room, the balcony patio, and the first floor lounge are great places for girls to get together, study, and relax.

Your contributions have helped us all in many ways, for which I want to thank you. My fellow classmates and I are more than grateful.

Sincerely,

Ocaidy Hunziker
President

Mount St. Mary’s celebrated the completion of its Invest in the Mount campaign at the Chalon Campus in Brentwood in September. Approximately 300 people attended the finale event, which included a campus tour of renovated facilities and the unveiling of a donor wall commemorating leadership gifts.

The day began with a Mass celebrated by Monsignor Royale Vadakin in Mary Chapel. It was followed by a luncheon program where MSMC President Jacqueline Powers Doud announced that the Invest in the Mount campaign, which started in January 2005, ended six months ahead of schedule and above goal. With an original fund-raising goal of $45 million by December 31, 2008, the College closed the campaign on June 30, 2008, having raised nearly $54 million.

The event also featured two speakers, student Cassandra Krieger, a senior majoring in English and minoring in pre-law and an award-winning Mock Trial Team member, and Helen Boutrous, associate professor and chair of the History and Political Science Department. Boutrous personally thanked donors on behalf of the Mount faculty. “With your generosity,” she said, “our students can have the facilities and the resources they need to gain all they can from their college experience—and to thrive beyond this campus and throughout their lives.”

The program closed on a musical note, with Leslie Cunningham ’90 singing “The Impossible Dream” from the musical Man of La Mancha.
Formerly known only as Building 4, the newly renovated Ahmanson Weingart Hall on the Doheny Campus includes 25 upgraded classrooms and labs. Students learn in brightly-lit rooms equipped with audio and visual equipment that allow professors to incorporate multimedia presentations into their curriculum. Renovations also included new furnishings and an elevator.

Hannon Hall

The brand-new Hannon Hall sits at the corner of St. James and Chester Place in the heart of the Doheny Campus. The residence hall is home to more than 50 students and was constructed to resemble the historic homes that surround it on campus and in the neighborhood. The dorm features several inviting spaces for students to gather, including a first floor lounge and kitchen area, and an outdoor patio on the second floor.
The Rose Hills Auditorium, the largest learning/performance space on the Doheny Campus, has been transformed into a multipurpose instructional center and lecture hall for the entire Mount community. The auditorium, which features new lighting, audio and visual equipment, stage curtain, and refinished wood surfaces, is currently used by students, faculty, and staff for activities such as the social justice film festival, the Critical Teaching in Action conference, and new-student orientation.
The Ken Skinner Parking Pavilion, named in memory of the former executive vice president of the Fritz B. Burns Foundation, provides ample parking for students, faculty, and staff on the Doheny Campus. The pavilion is connected to campus by the Adams Art Walk, a path that features sculptures and landscaping for people to enjoy as they begin and end each day.
The Mount continues to provide top-notch science education in the new Seaver Science Center, which saw upgrades to every physical science and biological science classroom and lab. The new facilities and equipment allow faculty and students to work side-by-side on research that is helping to educate the next generation of scientists who are motivated and prepared to tackle some of the world’s most pressing problems.
The center includes the Denault/Loring Laboratory of Chemical Science, the Neurological Plasticity and Aging Lab, and the Ralph M. Parsons Foundation Quantitative Resource Center.
The Seaver Science Center also includes the Carla and Hank Bowman Microbiology Laboratory, which puts state-of-the-art research tools in the hands of students.
The William H. Hannon Theater, formerly called the Little Theater, is a favorite gathering place on the Chalon Campus. The theater was renovated top to bottom and includes new audio and visual equipment, theater lighting, backdrop curtains, refurbished seating, and “marquee” frames in the lobby to display student posters and theater information. The venue is host to numerous events such as the Mount Community Night, the social justice film festival, and the Mind and Spirit concert series.
The Kathleen and J. Thomas McCarthy Complex includes three refurbished residence halls—Brady, Carondelet, and Rossiter—and the newly named Thomas and Dorothy Leavey Commons. The Leavey Commons, located along the entire ground floor of Brady, features the student lounge (formerly the Lecture Hall), bookstore, student activities, Associated Student Body office, commuter services, dining area, and mail room.
