Education Department Philosophy:

MSMU Education Department courses are meant to be laboratories of learning. Our hope is that the activities and materials included will serve your learning goals as you explore the various course topics. Our intent is that students from all diverse backgrounds and perspectives be well-served, that students' learning needs be addressed both in and out of class, and that the diversity that students bring to each course be viewed as a resource, strength, and benefit. Throughout the semester, please feel free to let your course instructor know ways to improve the effectiveness of the course for you personally, or for other students or student groups, if you have any suggestions.

Investment in Inclusivity:

- This class aims to be an anti-discriminatory environment that is inclusive of differences of race, ethnicity and national origins, gender and gender identity, sexuality, class, and religion. The success of this expectation relies on the support and understanding of everyone in the class. We seek to establish a community where we engage in critical dialogue and active listening. While all are expected to make their best effort to be respectful, we understand that someone may say something that results in unintentional offense and hurt feelings. We invite everyone to adopt a stance of assumed positive intent that seeks greater knowledge and understanding.
- All people have the right to be addressed and referred to in accordance with their personal identity. You may choose to indicate the name that you prefer to be called and, if you choose, to identify pronouns with which you would like to be addressed.
- It is the policy of MSMU to permit students to observe holidays set aside by their chosen religious faith. If you plan to be absent from class on your religious holiday, please make arrangements with the course instructor in advance.

Student Support Statements:

- MSMU has a Minors on Campus policy statement published in the Student Handbook that allows for faculty discretion. If you are a parent and are concerned that childcare needs could disrupt your ability to attend class, please reach out so we can create a plan in advance for potential emergencies.
- If personal challenges related to health issues might affect the ability to perform in this class, please know that there are resources to assist you with appropriate accommodations.
- Any student who has difficulty affording groceries or accessing sufficient food to eat every day, or who lacks a safe and stable place to live and believes this may affect their performance in the course, is urged to contact the Dean of Student Life on their respective campus for support. Chalon Campus: Laura Crow, Dean of Student Life 310-954-4133 and lcrow@msmu.edu. Doheny Campus/WEC & Online/Sunset Gower/Graduate: Jessica Cuevas, Dean of Student Life 213-477-2570 and jcuevas@msmu.edu. Also, please feel free to notify your course instructor or program director if you are comfortable doing so.

Course Description:

This course focuses on the elements of language and literacy learning in the elementary grades and methods for teaching a robust and comprehensive instructional program. The program involves studying, observing and practicing these five key themes: making meaning, language development, effective expression, content knowledge, and foundational skills. This course focuses on guiding candidates in demonstrating the ability to design and deliver instruction in reading, writing, speaking, listening, and language that assures that all students develop proficiency and meet or exceed the California standards and know the English Language Development Standards that are integrated in the Standards document.

Current theoretical and practical aspects of language arts curriculum and instruction will be learned. These include systematic, explicit instruction and strategies for developing a comprehensive literacy program for native English speakers, English language learners of varied proficiency levels, educational and cultural backgrounds, speakers of non-dominant varieties of English, students with special needs, struggling readers and advanced learners; assessment skills necessary for helping individual students; and exploring appropriate materials. Methods and principles for developing proficient readers and writers and for analyzing students' strengths and areas of needed growth will be studied and practiced.

The co-teaching is demonstrated as the Education Specialist works collaboratively and cooperatively with the primary instructor to model methods of meeting the diverse needs of the struggling learner and special education student.

Prerequisites: ENG 102, EDU 253, 208 or department approval.

Course Objectives:

Based on the California State Department of Education Program Standards and the Literacy Teaching Performance Expectations (TPEs), students will demonstrate knowledge of and beginning competence in:

1. Design and deliver instruction in reading, writing, speaking, listening, and language that assures that all students develop English proficiency and meet or exceed the standards of the Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts for California Public Schools, including knowing how to select appropriate instructional materials based on research, professional judgment, experience, and student needs. (OT#2, Literature Week Plan, and Fieldwork)
2. Methods for studying, observing, and practicing the five key themes of a robust and comprehensive instructional program: making meaning, language development, effective expression, content knowledge, and foundational skills as well as creating a print-rich environment. (Fieldwork)

3. Methods of the role of foundational reading skills to promote fluent reading, which includes word analysis (phonemic awareness and phonics), decoding, and spelling patterns.
4. Study, observe, and practice the principles of Universal Design for Learning (UDL), Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS), and a culture of shared responsibility for student learning and development. (Fieldwork, OT2)
5. Methods for teaching reading comprehension, that employ appropriate teaching strategies to develop students' abilities to read and comprehend narrative and informational texts and to cite specific evidence when offering an oral or written interpretation of a text or making a claim. Provide opportunities for students to read purposefully and listen attentively to build discipline-specific knowledge in the content areas.
6. Methods for planning for and developing academic language to extend across reading, writing, speaking, and listening, making language (vocabulary, conventions, and knowledge of language comprehensible to students. (Literature Week Plan)
7. Methods for learning the integrative and complementary nature of using the English Language Arts and approaching it through an interdisciplinary lens to facilitate learning across the curriculum. This includes finding ways to integrate literacy into a variety of subject areas such as History-Social Studies, Science, and Technical Subjects. (Literature Week Plan)
8. Methods for developing listening and oral communication and interpersonal skills and applications that reinforce instruction in reading and writing. (Fieldwork Observations and Writing Project Presentation)
9. Use of a range of reading materials, including literary and expository texts, State Board of Education-adopted core instructional materials, and resources reflecting cultural diversity. (Fieldwork and Literature Week Plan)
10. Methods for teaching writing using a process approach, including strategies, applications, and conventions and to write increasingly more sophisticated opinion/persuasive, expository, and narrative texts and for students to adapt their communication in relation to audience, task, purpose, and discipline. (Fieldwork and Writing Project and Presentation)
11. Implementation of diagnostic strategies to determine the skill level of students through the use of meaningful indicators of reading and language arts proficiency prior to instruction, how to determine whether students are making adequate progress on skills and concepts, how use the information to inform instruction, to monitor student progress, and to determine the effectiveness of instruction and student proficiency after instruction. (OT1 and OT2)
12. Analysis (in-class and group) of specific student scenarios, looking at strengths, challenges, and determinations of possible interventions. (Preparation for OT1, OT2, RICA, and TPA)
13. Implementation and knowledge of English Language Development strategies that are integrated in the California Standards in English Language Arts and Literacy for making literacy content comprehensible to English language learners of varied proficiency levels, educational and cultural backgrounds. (OT2 and Literature Week Plan)
14. Managing the classroom for literacy, looking at several approaches to teaching and learning, including inquiry-based learning, collaborative learning, and direct instruction. (OT2, Fieldwork)
15. Effectively assess and apply constructive interventions that support the struggling and advanced learner for greater engagement and performance.
16. Learn to collaborate with staff and faculty to serve the special needs student in the inclusive setting.
17. Learn to implement co-teaching models within the general education classroom.
18. Provide students the opportunity to use and evaluate strengths and limitations of media and technology as integral tools in the classroom. (Literature Week Plan)

Class will also address:

- The role of home and community literacy practices

Specific TPEs are addressed and noted in the Description of Course Assignments and in the Course Schedule below. In addition, you will be practicing and receiving feedback on the TPEs listed in the individual assignment descriptions and at the end of this document.

Course Format:

This is a fully distance learning course conducted virtually. Some classes will meet live (synchronous) via Zoom. A Zoom meeting ID will be provided prior to class. Other sessions will be done asynchronously where activities via Canvas will be required for completion. All course documents, including assignment guidelines and rubrics, and Zoom meeting information, will be available on Canvas, and all assignments will be submitted through Canvas.

Class Participation:

In each meeting, there will be many strategies modeled, new information discussed, and skills practiced. These activities cannot be made up. Absences and tardies for both synchronous and asynchronous sessions will affect your learning and your grade. Please note that you will lose 2 points from your overall total for each missed session (synchronous and asynchronous). If you miss a third session you will be required to do a 5-page assignment related to the course content. Neglecting to do all activities for an asynchronous session will be considered an absence. Missing more than 3 sessions will result in an administrative withdrawal from the class (W).

Required Field Experience:

Early fieldwork requirement for this course is regular visits in a public school classroom for a total of 50 hours during the semester. Virtual classroom observations do count towards this requirement.

Due to health and safety concerns, school sites may re-open to students and teachers but visitors to campus for observation/participation may be extremely limited. The Education Fieldwork Coordinator will keep you informed of all options available for meeting the early fieldwork hour required this semester.

Certificate of Clearance:

This course involves an early fieldwork component. According to the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC), teacher credential candidates MUST have a Certificate of Clearance PRIOR to entering a school for fieldwork. To ensure your eligibility to complete all elements of this course, you are required to submit a copy of your Certificate of Clearance to the course instructor (as instructed and by the date due) in order to complete the course. This is a non-negotiable state requirement.

Preservice teachers will need to arrange for a placement with Kelli Agner, kagner@msmu.edu, in the Education Department. The observation times must occur during the reading/language arts instructional time, which is usually in the morning. Ideally, students should begin the placement as soon as possible in the semester in order to practice and accomplish the tasks. You must submit a log of your hours, signed by the supervising teacher each time you visit in order to receive credit for all field-based assignments. Almost all assignments will be done in your field work classroom.

Inservice teachers must also log 50 hours with 15 hours of fieldwork in a public-school classroom at a grade level different than their own. If you have access to a classroom in which to carry out the fieldwork activities, arrange for that placement through Kelli Agner as soon as possible.

Opportunity Tasks:

Following the California Commission for Teacher Credentialing competency routes, each student will be able to practice Teacher Performance Expectations (TPE's) and to meet the standards of a skilled beginning teacher.

These TPE opportunity tasks will help prepare credential candidates for the final California Teacher Performance Assessment, which must be completed successfully to apply for a credential. The OTs in this course resemble tasks in the California TPA, which is described fully in a candidate handbook available from the Education Department.

Description of Course Assignments:

Written assignments are due as indicated on the syllabus by the class start time on the date due as indicated on the syllabus. They should be professionally presented; that is, written in error-free standard academic English, typed in 12-point font, and double-spaced with 1-inch margins. Up to 1 point per day for late assignments will be deducted. All assignments must be turned in to the link under the Assignments link on the Canvas for this class.

Reading Reflection Assignments

Skilled reading is the hallmark of a reading teacher. All assigned readings on the syllabus must be completed thoroughly before each session in order to prepare for the content of that session. You will demonstrate preparedness through reflection assignments. These reflections will make connections between the texts and your own background knowledge, other texts, and your fieldwork experience. Topics for the reflections include: home-school connection, learning a second language, early literacy, experiences with phonemic awareness and phonics, and fluency. A separate description will be provided.

Assessment and Analysis

Opportunity Task #1 is described fully in a separate handout. You will identify focus students in your fieldwork placement, select appropriate assessment tools, and assess them in two or more areas of reading or writing. You will analyze the students' strengths and areas of needed growth and describe plans for instruction.

* (Inservice teachers- this assignment will be completed in your own classroom, with your own students.) (TPEs 5.1, 5.2, 5.5, 5.8, and 6.1)

Lesson Design and Implementation

Opportunity Task #2 is described fully in a separate handout. You will plan, teach, videotape, assess and redesign a reading/ language arts lesson either in your fieldwork placement or in your own classroom. This experience will give you critical practical experience not only in actual instruction but also in the important art of preparing AND reflecting before and after the lesson. Lessons should be designed using the MSMU lesson plan template and include modifications/adaptations for an English Learner as well as a student with exceptional needs.

* (Inservice teachers- this assignment will be completed in your own classroom) (TPEs 1.3, 1.4, 1.6, 3.2, 3.5, 4.1, 4.2, 4.4c and 6.1)

Midterm

In order to be credentialed in California, you must demonstrate knowledge of concepts, materials and strategies for a comprehensive literacy program. The midterm is also designed to help you prepare for the state exam, the RICA.

Literature Week Plan

Choosing quality and appropriate literature for our students is another hallmark of an effective reading teacher. There are various factors to consider, such as interest level and reading level of the books. You will develop a week-long plan using one literature book in which the reading components of class are incorporated, as well as one English Language Development lesson. You will also integrate another subject matter (Social Sciences, Sciences, Math, etc.) with the Language Arts and differentiate lessons for struggling learners and English language learners. A separate assignment description will be provided. (TPEs 1.1, 3.1, 3.3, 3.6, 4.3, 4.4a, 4.4c, and 4.4d)

Literature Response/Writing Process Project and Presentation

The purpose of this assignment is to have you experience the writing process as you would teach it in your class and, as your students would learn it. You will extend your reading of Inside Out and Back Again as you go through the writing process (prewriting, drafting, revising, editing, publishing) and create a final writing project. You will present your project in class. A separate handout with a full description will be provided.

Grading:

Each aspect of the course is worth a certain number of possible points. Students may earn partial point values for various assignments. Remember, candidates for the MSMU Multiple Subject Credential Program must maintain a 3.0 GPA.

Assessment of Student Learning Outcomes:

Student learning is at the core of the MSMU mission. MSMU faculty developed a plan to assess the student-learning outcomes that represent the knowledge, skills and attitudes expected of MSMU's graduate students. In this class one or more student learning outcomes will be assessed. Some of our class assignments may be used to evaluate overall student learning and to improve teaching and learning in this class, this department, and throughout the College.

MSMU and Education Department Policies:

Absences: Regular attendance is especially important in the Education Department's compacted evening and weekend classes. Students who miss two class sessions of a 1 of 2-unit class or 3 class sessions of a 3- or 4-unit class may be administratively dropped from the class unless an additional 5-page paper assignment is completed as make-up. This policy represents 20% of the instructional time and is in accordance with University policy as stated in the MSMU Catalog.

Academic Freedom: Students' and faculty's freedom of speech is constitutionally protected, so each are free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion-and allow the same freedom of others. See Student Handbook(s) for further discussion.

Academic Integrity: Candidates are expected to adhere to the MSMU statements on Academic Integrity in the MSMU catalog. This includes avoiding plagiarism and doing your best work on each assignment. Papers and other work including images should not be copied from the internet.

Candidate Dispositions: The Education Department has adopted a Dispositions Statement that outlines expectations of all credential and graduate students. (See the Education Department Student Handbook.) Students who do not meet expectations will receive a Notice of Concern as part of the Department's formative feedback assessment process.

Certificate of Clearance: In order to demonstrate eligibility to complete all elements of an Education course requiring public school fieldwork, students must submit a copy of a CCTC-issued Certificate of Clearance or valid California teaching credential to the course instructor as instructed and by the date due. According to the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC), teacher credential candidates MUST have a Certificate of Clearance PRIOR to entering a school for fieldwork. This is a non-negotiable state requirement. (This requirement applies to EDU courses 1/207, 1/208A, 1/250, 1/256, 1/266, 1/267, and 1/268.)

Classroom Participation: Learning is done through social interaction and discussion. It is important to be present at each synchronous class session and participate in class discussions. There will be multiple modes of expression, and each is a valuable part of the class. Any work completed in class must be submitted by the end of the class period.

Disability Statement: Students with disabilities should consult the MSMU policies regarding commitment to equal educational opportunities for disabled students in the MSMU catalog.

Mount Saint Mary's University, Los Angeles is committed to ensuring the full participation of all students in its programs. If you have a documented disability (chronic, medical, physical, learning, psychological, or temporary), or think you may have a disability and need a reasonable accommodation to participate in class, complete course requirements, or access the University's programs or services; contact Disability Services (DS) as soon as possible. To receive an accommodation, you must register with DS. DS works with students confidentially and does not disclose any disability-related information without student consent. DS coordinates and promotes disability accommodations and awareness and works in partnership with faculty and all other student service offices. All assignments should be thoughtfully prepared, written in standard academic English, free of grammatical and spelling errors, and typed. Use 12-point Times or Arial font, double-spacing, and one-inch margins. (Note: Educators must be excellent language and literacy models. Written work with multiple grammatical/spelling errors per page will receive point reductions.)

Quality of Work: The MSMU Education Department expects all credential and Master's candidates to demonstrate their ability to act as literacy models for K-12 students by submitting high quality, written assignments, and projects. Candidates' assignments turned in with serious writing errors, including high numbers of typos, will either be asked to resubmit the assignment or have significant point/percentage reductions.

Resource Binder Maintenance: All preliminary credential candidates are required to organize and maintain a resource binder each semester that will serve as a post-credential resource file. Instructions are provided in EDU 1/208A, made available via Canvas. Course materials provided in each class as handouts or made available on Canvas should be downloaded and kept in a personal filing system, whether electronic or hardcopy. This material will be reviewed during the last semester in the Supervised Teaching Seminar: EDU 1/210.

Student Credit Hour Policy – A credit hour is an amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement that reasonably approximates not less than:
