

Task 3: Research of Eligibility (Part I) Name _____

EDU 108/208A

Recommended research site: <http://www.parentcenterhub.org/repository/specific-disabilities/>

If you use other sources, cite your source(s) within the specific cell of this template.

Area of Special Needs- ASD, SLD, OHI (ADHD), or GATE
IDEA Definition of your eligibility paraphrased : see http://www.parentcenterhub.org/categories/
Changes in Definition OR Issues with Identification (including ethical considerations/disproportionality for identification and inclusion rates)	Prevalence OR Levels of Severity
Causes/Conditions/At-risk Indicators	Characteristics including Resilience Factors and Educational Impact
Community Resources	Web Resources, including Advocacy Groups that may have offices in the metropolitan area

Also, add to this research from your textbook chapter ____ within Different Brains, Different Learners that focuses more on medical diagnoses than educational eligibilities. (ASD- 8, OHI- 12, SLD- 11 or 13 and GATE- 3 or 4)

1. A significant detail about brain structure that references or connects with your eligibility
2. A detail about impact, demographics, causes, or symptoms
3. At least one supplemental resource
4. Page numbers for tables and/or “What You Can Do” (your groupmates will use this during part 2, see below)

FYI...PART 2 will be completed with your groupmates for an expert group/Jigsaw activity later in the semester. Some class time will be devoted to this, but a Google Doc or equivalent will be required as you compile the following:

*Educational Impact (specifically, how do cognitive, pedagogical and individual factors impact learning rate.)

*Instructional Materials and Assistive Technology

*Related/Support Services including health agencies

*Suggested Accommodations and Strategies for Acceptance

*Discuss atypical development with family (<http://www.ldonline.org/article/6047/>)

*Film and literary excerpt (<https://iris.peabody.vanderbilt.edu/resources/films/> and
